

"There are worse crimes than burning books. One of them is not reading them." – Ray Bradbury

Dear Parents and Carers,

On Monday, we started the week with a super assembly with guest visitors - Martin an engineer from Rolls Royce and Michael a Pilot for Jet 2. It was so inspiring to hear them talk about their careers and specifically the maths they use every day. They use the three times tables, speeds, calculating, weight, checking temperatures and so much more! The maths we learn in school really does come into life in the future. We are so grateful to them for giving up their time from their busy careers

I was delighted to receive a check from Howdens for £250 to add to our total for the Cornish Seal Sanctuary. A big thank you to Esmail and Ayla for asking their Dad to help us build our total. THANK YOU HOWDENS! At the School Council meeting last week, they have asked for another Toasty Tuesday so we'll be bringing this back again in January! Best wishes. Mrs Pipe, Headteacher

The star learners this week come from Year 4. Tamar Class have had a fantastic time this half term creating algorithms. To do this they used 'makecode' and downloaded their code onto their micro:bit, to create volcano eruption animations. Along the way they had to use their SECRET skill of finding solutions to make sure everything flowed correctly. Great work Tamar Class!

Absence Requests—Reminder

The law does not grant parents an automatic right to take their child out of school during term time. We publish the dates of school terms well ahead, this is to help you plan your holidays and check that it does not clash with the school term. Permission must be sought in advance.

When deciding whether to allow term time leave, for any reason, the school will consider:

- Are the circumstances surrounding the request exceptional
- The time and duration of the leave (e.g. closeness to Standard Attainment Tests (SATs) in Year 2 and Year 6)
- Your child's record of attendance
- Learning that will be missed

Warning: if the school refuses your request and the child is still taken out of school, this will be recorded as an unauthorised absence.

The Law

The law does not say that parents have an automatic right to take their child out of school for holidays during term time. You have a legal duty to make sure your child attends school regularly and punctually. Research shows that pupils perform better if their parents or carers emphasise the importance of attending school. The school and the Local Authority monitor your child's attendance and will take action if it is poor.

Only in exceptional situations will Governors give permission for any absence.

Advice from the Department for Education in March 2008 states that schools can only approve absence for family holidays if they consider there are special circumstances. Holiday prices, and the fact that the parents have booked a holiday before checking with the school, are not special reasons.

Penalty Notices for unauthorised absence

If you decide to take your child out of school, without permission, you will be committing an offence under the Education Act 1996. We may refer the matter to Cornwall Council who as the issuing officer will may decide to take legal action against you. A penalty notice can be issued under Section 444A and 444B of the Education Act 1996. This carries a fine of £60 if paid within 21 days or £120 if paid after this but within 28 days. Fines are issued per parent/carer, per child. Failure to pay the penalty notice may result in Court action. Persistent absences not authorised by the school may result in a prosecution in the Magistrates Court, leading to fines up to £2,500 and/or custodial sentences.

Local Education Officers make termly visits to schools to review individual attendance figures and will visit families where children's attendance is low or there is persistent absence.

Guidance

Other absence from school will be authorised if it is for the following reasons:

- Genuine illness
- Unavoidable medical / dental appointments (but try to make these after school if at all possible)
- Days of religious observance
- Exceptional circumstances, such as bereavement
- Seeing a parent who is on leave from the armed forces
- External examinations
- When Traveller

Other absence from school will not be authorised:

- For any type of shopping
- Looking after brothers, sisters or unwell parents
- Minding the house
- Birthdays
- Resting after a late night
- Relatives visiting or visiting relatives

The Big Ambition

The Children's Commissioner for England, Dame Rachel De Souza has launched a national campaign, The Big Ambition.

It is really important that the pupils at Dobwalls Community Primary School participate in The Big Ambition survey and have their say. She wants to ensure that the voices of the children in Cornwall are fairly represented in the findings so that she can share their views with the most senior members of the country.

She is keen for all children to have their voice heard through this survey because, as Children's Commissioner for England, she has a statutory duty to protect and promote the views and interests of children. The Big Ambition provides a much-needed opportunity for the children of England to tell political decision makers what is important to them ahead of the General Election. She will be sharing their responses with Government to ensure that children's voices are heard.

Children or parents can complete the survey here: www.childrenscommissioner.gov.uk/
